The comic book movies "Barb Wire" "Steel" "X-Men Origins: Wolverine" "TMNT III" Batman & Robin" "Elektra" and others sucked with a fiery vengeance. WHO thinks they could write a better one?

This belongs in the fan fiction section of the forum anyway, because if you think about it, those can be fan fiction as well. Like "Howard the Duck" (also sucked). Howard's creator said "Everything they loved about the character, they destroyed". We write stories about corporate characters in our free time. Surely we can make better stories than those (especially Batman and Robin. Seriously, Wiki Bane and see just how much they @$%ed up on that one) turned out to be. Think about it. I've already tried to concieve a better followup to TMNT II (which itself seems to have suffered from pressure from parents.
