

Forum: Commissions and Requests

Topic: Help a noob?

Subject: Help a noob?

Posted by: Superfan

Posted on: 2009/10/9 21:28:35

I am 53 years old with 3 small kids and their mom walked out a year ago. Now that the poor me part of this is over, let me explain, I want to fill my time with a new hobby. Before I got together with my ex I was into playing live blues in the great NW but now I don't drink or have the desire (or time & energy) to get back into that lifestyle so I started looking around and I stumbled onto 3d art and it was instant love. I am amazed at the talent that is out there .you guys are amazing!!! It's going to take me years to get good so I am wondering if anyone has some super hero models that they want to share? I'd love to have Superman (of course) Batman and the Flash, I already have Supergirl. I have some cool ideas that I haven't seen anyone doing and I know enough to do a scene but as far as making my own model I don't even know where to start. If I am being too forward please forgive me I don't want to offend I just love this stuff. Thanx Dan