My personal favourite is Nylon-Spandex. It has a shiny texture, is very flexible and form-fitting (unlike Leather & Latex), and is cooler & more comfortable to wear, especially in exercise (you don't see exercise outfits of Latex or Leather). Cotton-Spandex is the most comfortable to wear but does not have a shiny finish. However, we're talking fantasy here so you could make-believe anything you want. In some TV and movie shows (notably BatGirl and Catwoman in the Batman TV Show) a Lamé-coated spandex was used which was not very flexible (wrinkles). Julie Newmar's fit better b/c she was a seamstress and tailored her catsuit.
