I noticed in all your pictures they were pin-up types, I would like to see an action shot or a over the top display of powers from you. Some really crazy special effects.

Well, of course they all seem to be Pinups. I don't like wasting my time creating 3D backgrounds...and I don't like trying to slap my girls on some crappy background. I am in it for the ladies. I have notice that everyone does good work and then their images go on to a low res image that shoots the manip in the foot. HEY... I am just as guilty. That is why I developed my style. Dig? BUT... I will accept that challenge. I have 12 DVD's full of images... Yes, that is approximately 56 GIG of images to go thru and see what I can slap together. However, I am in the middle of two Pin-ups so, this challenge will have to wait. I unfortunately I am a linear worker so I will have to finish these, in order, before moving on... But, you have given me some direction...
