Green= Barbara Gordon: After the Joker paralyzed her instead of feeling sorry for herself she chose to become Oracle and continued fighting the good fight. Also she has demonstrated her fearlessness when she first chose to become Batgirl and fought foes who were more powerful than she was. If any superheroine has demonstrated the will of a Green Lantern it is Barbara who after all the adversity she has faced still has the "will" to go on.

Blue= Stargirl: Stargirl demonstrated hope the first time she put on a uniform to carry on the legacy of the Star Spangled Kid. Mary Marvel had lost all hope when she accepted Black Adam's power to become Black Marvel. As for Elasti Girl, I don't recall her ever seeming as hopeful as Stargirl (I could be wrong though).

Indigo= Liberty Belle: You ever see Starfire is a warrior born. Compassion is NOT second nature to her, killing her enemies is. Remember Nightwing had to teach her how to have compassion or she would have killed pretty much any of the Titan's enemies.

I hope this helped.
