I actually found exactly what I was looking for last night, and it was completely by accident. I did a search for loin cloth on www.sharecg.com in an effort to find more outfits for my Conan figure, as I am planning on doing a full comic miniseries starring him and my White Archer figure, and one of the first things to show up in the results was a perfect texture for a set I believe is sold on renderosity called Deathbringer. I'll be working with it tonight and posting soon.
