

Heromorph

---

Forum: HM General Chit Chat

Topic: The Passing of a Legend

Subject: Re: The Passing of a Legend

Posted by: thestarkiller

Posted on: 2010/5/13 3:39:25

Quote:

ReddEra wrote:

Wow...I was just talking about him.

He will be missed so much!

It is funny you should mention that. I literally just introduced a very good friend of mine to Frazetta's artwork AND the world of Conan the day before he died. I suppose when an artist moves you in a certain way it's possible to develop a special bond with said artist that transcends the physical world and enters one of emotion. It was the same with Michael Turner for me. The day he died was a very sad day for me, and I couldn't place my finger on why. It was the next day that I read online that Turner had died.

Rest in peace, mr. Frazetta. Your artwork has inspired many great artists and touched many people's souls. You will be greatly missed.