So far all I've heard people describe Mickey Rourke's character as has been "the Russian Villain". does anyone know who he was actually supposed to be? When i saw the previews I initially thought he was Omega Red and then was told that he was Whiplash which i find hard to believe especially since Whiplash was a hired killer and not Russian. I think he was Crimson Dynamo simply because he had the same name and his final version of armor looked slightly like CD's...now why he had the electric whips...i'll never know

He was a mashup of Whiplash and The Dynamo. I don't know why but he was.

I have read interviews with the creators of this movie that this is in fact the case. They wanted whiplash but for the character in the movie they combined Whiplash together with the Dynamo...to make him more interesting I guess.
