I recently did an image of a comic book cover from an idea I had. The idea as practical art never made it past the cover for the book, but the idea was played out to conclusion in my head. I thought it might be interesting for other artists to take the basic concept of a story that I had and sort of build the book, page by page. One artists would do page 1 and a second artist would build on what was presented there for page 2, and so on and so forth. Let me know if this is an idea that you guys can get behind. I'd love to see a big collaborative effort from all the talented artists on this site.

The original image I did is here

But feel free to use other covers or make some of your own to start new collaborative stories.
