I actually kinda hate using M4's bodysuit lol. I'd much rather have second skin textures with bump and displacement maps. I find it personally much easier to work with. So, if anybody reading this would like to give it a shot, I'd really appreciate it. I have a friend who requested an image, and while he hasn't gotten back to me on specifics regarding pose and/or composition yet, I'd really love to have the character ready to go by the time he does.

Thanks in advance if anyone can help me.
