Westboro was definitely out numbered. I can see it now... they go back to head quarters beat all to hell and one of the members says... "It was Bender... and Jesus... they kicked our ass!"

It really is sad... I feel for a "Baptist" Church that will even protest Comic Con. What next, a Halloween bake sale to help the disabled? I guess they have realize the danger of protesting another military funeral and decided to attack nerds.

Freakin' idiots... and I do love the fact that the Comic Con folk protested back. Beautiful!

The Trekki that is holding up the sign that says "God Hates Jedi" cracked me up!
