Upon the insistence of Mr. Hazard, I have posted the preliminary stages of my first figurine of my OC, April Fewells. I started off with a simple pose. You can see the stages here as I am trying to give the figure some bulk, so that I can come back into it and start removing mass and adding detail. Just when I thought I had the proportions the way I want, I keep adding more clay. But you can see her taking shape. With the ears, she already measures about 11" tall.
