I could see this as a great way to ad inspiration to new works, as well as a tribute to some of the finer works of the past.

"The tree of Liberty"...uh..."refreshed from time to time"...ummmm..."with the blood of patriots and tyrants...."

I think that's how the quote sorta goes...

Anyway...

Substitute "creativity" for Liberty, of course.

And by NO means is this a reference to anyone specific with the "patriots" or "tyrants" references...hehehe.
