I'm probably going to take some heat for this, but I really don't care.

One of the things I look forward to every week is seeing what images posted during the week made the "Top Images" list. I think it's rather unfair to those posting during the week if images from years ago are brought back up to the top.

I agree with you, they don't have to be in the top images, years ago we had a special thumbnail for the old pics (the good ones)...I think it would be nice to bring that back...is just a thought.
