Exactly. . .like I said, if you're going to showcase the Oldies, but Goodies, give them their own category on the front page. I'd like to see that, myself. There have been some amazing people posting on this site for far longer than I've been even working with Poser and Photoshop, so I've missed quite a bit. And, while I do occasionally dig through past submissions just to see what was there, it would be amazing if there was a weekly guide to the highlights from years past.
