Like Hawk, I'm looking forward to it as well. Costumes are redesigned in almost every comic to film I've seen so the minor changes here don't bother me much. I think Ryan Reynolds can bring both laughs and drama to the role. He's no Robert Downey Jr. but the added humor worked well enough in IM. Admittedly, Marvels's got a much better track record than DC with the adaptations but I'm holding out hope here. I'm really liking what I see in the trailer.
