Update 4-13-11 After four months of trying to sell our house we finally did it, and I am moving out of my house on May 5th, (Sorry, I don't have a Cinco de Mayo themed character to mark the occasion, LOL!). Since our children still have to finish the school year though, the kids and I are just moving in with our in-laws until June, but all of our stuff is getting put into storage until we can move into a new house in Florida. This includes my computer with my scanner and graphics programs. I will still have access to computers for checking in and whatnot online, but just not anything that will allow me to continue with the comic. I will instead be using the time to at the very least catch up on the redrawing of the older pages that I want to fix up and in drawing the next chapters to be posted sometime later, but not until July or August at the earliest.
