Hey all,

Back in the real world...my job has just gone mental. I've been working late every night and all my weekends for the rest of the month are booked (feel sorry for me? Don't, I'm really buff and have a cool car).

So, while I want to do this team-up there is no way I will be finished this month.

If someone else wants to team-up with Brick that is cool with me - no reason he should miss out.

Max - it's all my fault, I told the aliens Roswell is a great vacation spot and you drive on the left.
