Sigh.

Can you post more images? Sure, you can read the rules. Go ahead and post.

Would be even better if your 'friend' posted because then that person could get feedback and improve.

From the looks of it your images have low to moderate hits and no-one is asking for more.

You've been sending me messages for many years now asking for things, you used to sign with a male name.

Your pattern is to start out with something like "i just wanted to say ur work is still the best ive ever seen..." then you get angry when I refuse to give you free stuff.

I'm a dick, but you're a dick too. At least I'm honest about it.
