Sorry to say, I lost all my 3D inventory, don't know if I'll ever get back all the 100+GB of inventory, but here's to the slow process of finding it all again.

Damn! Sorry to hear that buddy. I know what you're going through. I've been there a coupla times myself when my motherboard burned out. But there's always hope. If your PC still functions then there are several data retrieval programs out there that can find at least a good percentage of your deleted files. But if all is lost I'll do what I can to help you resupply. Just give me a holler.
