Hey Vash... I know that I came across pretty tough, but I only said something because I can tell that you have potential. I have been told that I only pick on the people that I like, so... watch out. No, I am not going to waste my time stalking you...

You images, even if they are the same girl could be improved on by simply working with the lighting. Maybe some post production atmosphere... etc. You have good poses, they just lack "BAM"

Don't let a little, harsh, constructive criticism keep you from posting images. I would be more than happy to put in my opinion on them. Hell, I do have a (wasted) degree in 3D computer animation. So much for being the next big game developer...huh? But I do know what the 3D should look like to be BAD ASS!

NOw... get your creative juices flowing and create some, new, dynamic stuff!
