i thought i already voted on this? well i prefer the one where you navigate through thumbnails. but to be fair it would help if the comparison links you posted actually worked.

I haven't been around for almost a month but I do believe that was because of the server move.

I just re-checked all links and they're working.

And since the server move also deleted a couple votes on the poll above, I restarted it until the end of February to give a chance to anyone who voted and all the rest that didn't to place their vote.
