Am I the only one who seems to be losing his/her past comments on images? I've noticed several images that I can openly swear to commenting on before. Yet when I see them in the random images and click on them again..I can see that my prior comment[s] are gone. Normally I would associate this with the site relocation..but this was something I noticed before that. I know it may not be an issue to the artist whose image lost my comment... when one of my favorite images pops up in the random..i like to open it just to review what I said about it. Maybe I'm nitpicking a bit but if i'm losing comments does that mean my post count is going down as well?
