i think im gonna pass this one up fellas..got a lot of personal issues going on and i'd rather not commit to a team project right now.

Well, damn... there goes one potential teamup I was looking forward to! Sorry to hear that, my friend. I was getting hopeful after seeing your most recent batch of pics. I wish you the best with any issues you might be facing and hope you have your affairs sorted out in time for the X-Mas fun.

thanx for the vote of confidence buddy. Sorry to disappoint anyone but judging by the list of those already signed on it should be a great crop of art coming out. as for my own personal [i should have said health issues] its nothing serious but is occupying a lot of my time at the doctor and not leaving much free time [rather free normal time to plan collaborations with anyone]. but i am looking forward to christmas this year so i'll see ya then.
