The final casting in this one seems really off. Just from the casting we know they are completely ignoring the source material .

The other thing that strikes me as really odd about this film project is that it isn't that far off and we have heard or seen really anything about it.

They were talking to the actress cast as Invisible girl in an interveiw a month or so a go and she was scheduled to start filming and she said she still had not seen the script.

I have many concerns about this film.
