Sony Pictures has butchered Spiderman and his universe to the point where no fan can approve. SO what... they will allow Spiderman to hop into the marvel universe [Movies] and spend an hour telling everyone about his origins? Screw Spiderman. Not a fan now... I collected all of his comics but have no love for what Sony has done with him. And any person that is not a comic fan will not miss him in the movies. Sony, keep fudging up Spiderman. Like another 3 movie re-boot where we have to put up with a crappy Peter Parker and 2 hours of explaining how he was bit by a spider. (no offense to Toby McGuire... he was a great Parker) You have made that crap bed... now sleep in it. Marvel studios (Disney) does not need the web slinger in any of their movies.
