

Forum: Commisions and Requests

Topic: ok i am looking to buy

Subject: Re: ok i am looking to buy

Posted by: pijon

Posted on: 2015/3/2 6:09:35

No worries, I knew you were joking... as was I, which is why I started with an "LOL" emoticon.

If you are running the latest version of Daz Studio (which BTW, I am not), then you have the fits.
Open Daz Studio.

It should tell you in the title bar at the top which version you're using.

It should be 4.7 If not, download the latest version and install it.

In Daz Studio, select the Actors, Wardrobe and and Props tab from the top left. Select Genesis from the the smart content/ figures category by double clicking on it.

Select the Shaping tab and apply the Aiko morph by adjusting Aiko 4 slider.

Next go to Content Library tab on the right side and add your Aiko 3 outfit.

Go to Scene tab on the right side and click on your outfit.

Click the Perimeters tab on the right side and in the left column,select "all" to show all perimeters.

Scroll down til you reach the "fit to" perimeter. Click on the empty box within that perimeter setting. A "fit to" dialog box should appear. Select Genesis. Now an "Auto-Fit" dialog box should pop up asking you who the outfit was originally designed for. Select Aiko 3 and the closest matching clothing item. It should then become converted to properly fit your character.