I am not a fan of the character the Thing. But truthfully he does just look exactly like I would imagine him looking like. He is a dude made of rocks, that's a dude made of rocks. Meh!

The ever lovin' blue eyed Thing has personality. It come through in the design of his rocks. A design that is actually quite canny for the medium. However, it's near impossible to think that anyone could actually pull it off without it looking too cartoonish.
