I love Music and I love Stories. I love music that tells a story.

Your Challenge for July: Create an image that tells a story using lyrics from any song you want. I want your image to be able to tell the story without using the name of the song you chose. After all, a picture is worth 1000 words.

You have until the end of July to submit your work. just put in the title "1000 Words"

Have Fun, and Happy 4th of July!
