So I decided to color a pic for the Jinky Coloring Challenge
So I'm normally not one to share a lot of process but when it comes to coloring, I take a pretty basic approach. This is the first step. First, choose an image. Since I love Jinky and I love Wonder Woman, her take on Wondy was an easy choice here. Next I add a few of flat colors on Wondy and Bats and window between. This gives me a base to consider how to arrange all the other colors around it. I'm already regretting using grey for the alien armor/tech body.
