Normally we would bring a challenge to a public vote but I think having Jinky judge this one is a terrific idea. We are still following your last suggestion though in which you and pijon have graciously and generously agreed to remove yourself from the vote for being mods so with only one other entry, a vote is not necessary. So while all 3 entries looked great, a special congratulations to our winner, Drunkendragon! We'll be contacting you about your prize shortly once we get our details sorted out.
