AS many of you, we also had some images stored at Photobucket and linked to other sites, some to this forum...

AS of today they shutdown that practive... at least for free.

Browsing thru this forum you will notice some images missing in some topics and some of them, if not all, are stored at Photobucket.

I don't know about you guys, but I'm gonna start using <http://www.ultraimg.com/> for that needs. At least, I'm testing it...

If any of you have any other alternative to image hosting for free just leave your sugestion in this topic.
