No, we C2Fers don't know about this yet. Except that I just posted a thread about it, so they should soon.

As for my own $0.02... I'd personally prefer another set of team-ups to a competition. That just seems more conducive to an inter-site crossover event. A competition is more something for within one site, to my mind. That's me though.

If we do go the competition route though, I'll go in as a rookie. Just to win it, of course.

Okay, okay... veteran.
