Just happened to notice this thread. I have used Force for a long time. I think I started using it 10 years ago at an arcade. It actually has nothing to do with StarWars believe it or not. I added the 95B in the past several months because so many others were using Force. The 95B is the "military code" for my MOS, Military Police, when I was in the Army 13 years ago. I was a cop.
