Oh no, looks like my previous comment went unnoticed.

Due to my (real life) over-workload and Summer I won't be starting any manips for the next couple of months.

Time for someone to step up and fill the gap, and there are heaps of artists who haven't joined... I'm surprised not to see Batmic there (I know it's Winter for you).

B seems to have everything in hand. All that remains is the random matching of teams in a few days. If you want me to get some attractive ladies to pick names, I can - they owe me favours.

Max - just not those kind of favours.
