I have been asked this a couple of times in the shoutbox, so I thought I would make a post so that everyone was on the same page as to what to do.

You and your partner are making One picture, together. the theme of this picture is rivalry. This doesn't mean that the picture has to be a fight scene (although that would be cool), the picture just has to depict some sort of rivalry in it, whether that rivalry is friendly or not.

Superman and the Flash racing to see who the fastest is a good example of friendly rivalry while Batman Vs. the Joker is an good example of a violent rivalry. Have fun, I am looking forward to the results.
