Well yes, but it depends on your time zone. You can post here as soon as they start the update at c2f.

I know the update for c2f is generally done at about 10pm pacific time tuesday night.

If you are unsure if you can post or not just check to see if they are updating (Click here for C2F)

Remember, DO Not post your half (or variations of your half) until the due date.

People working for Heromorph post here, the people on the C2F side of the fence post there.
