Hey every one. instead of putting tips and hints on the pictures comments I thought we could put them here. that way it should be easier to find them here later when you need them rather then searching the gallery for the picture that had the trick you wanted posted on it. if you can remember what picture had it in the first place.

It also may cut down on the gallery surfing keeping the bandwidth down.

If you have a tip or trick, please add to this thread.

Also if you have any questions or would like help with anything, ask away.
