

Forum: HM General Chit Chat

Topic: What's with the name, Buddy?

Subject: Re: New Members

Posted by: Arnheim

Posted on: 2005/3/6 14:00:47

My favourite 'traditional' artist is Magritte. He named one picture as a tribute to the short story 'The Domain of Arnheim' by Edgar Allen Poe - a cliff face morphed into the shape of an eagle.

It just occurred to me how much like top flight photomanip fanart it was & it seemed like a very positive vision of how you could re-imagine the world.

Something to aspire to...