2. Q. What is the theme?

A. Each team can pick your own theme. The team leader has the final say as to what your teams theme is going to be.

3.Q. Is this a competition?

A. No

4.Q. What is the due date?

A. The due date has not been set as of yet. I would like each team leader to post a response here once they have talked to all of their team members and have decided on a base picture and theme for their pictures. The team member due date will be one month after each team leader checks in with that information. Team leaders will be given an additional 2 days to put the picture together. All call to arm pictures will be submitted on the same day.
