(Jan, Feb, March, April...May!) yeah, May!

This month's challenge comes from our own Mr. Lord Bikerbot. (although he will try to pass some of the blame off on me. don't beleive him! Hes the one who told Iceman that "Hot Springs" was just a name)

May's Challenge has been dubbed, "Unlikely Summer jobs."

Self-explanatory, right? Yeah, I wish.

Take your chosen established hero (or villian), manipped, posed, 3d, sketched, WHATEVER, and depict them in an unlikey occupation. "Unlikely" meaning two things: based on their powers or personality, the job would not be a good fit for them. And two, if you can picture them being successful at it, its NOT an unlikely job!

Only one rule really. Make us laugh. If your wife or mom doesn't laugh when you describe your idea, start over.
