It is the due date for the individual parts.

If you are an artist and not the team leader you should be done and you should have sent your part of the picture to your team leader (or who ever on your team that is assigned) so that they can put the final image together.

If you have not finished your part or if you need more time it is up to your team leader on how they want to proceed.

Team leaders, You can feel free to ask other members of any team to fill in or find any artist that is willing to help finish the image.

All images will be posted this Friday, June 10th.
