Yikes, lol. Man, you guys are way too hyper-critical of the movie. How about waiting to actually see it, THEN make your judgments? I'm a huge fan of Superman but I don't see how anyone can make such judgments of the thing.

I mean, all of the elements of what make Superman are apparently evident in the production. The suit, the villains, the city, the origin, the supporting cast, .etc.. It's not like they made Superman a gay-black guy from the year 2525 who has hooves for feet.

Take it easy boys and girls, and let's actually see the film first before lambasting the living bejeezus out of it.
